

PARKER EXCURSION ATTRACTS MANY MERCHANTS

Lengthy Program Waits For Entertainment Of Guests

(From Saturday's Daily)
Advises from Parker are that the committees in charge of the entertainment of the visitors who will arrive there on the business men's excursion Sunday morning have all arrangements made for a regal reception. An elaborate program is arranged, commencing at 10 o'clock and continuing until the train leaves at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. A large number of berths have been ordered already and those who intend to take advantage of the low rate of $5 to see the wonders of the great copper country traversed by the Arizona & California railroad and who have not secured berths are invited to do so as early as possible this morning at the ticket office in the railroad depot. Berths will be ready at 10 o'clock, so that those who desire to retire at that hour.

Leaving here at 11 o'clock tonight the excursion train will reach Parker at 8:25 Sunday morning. Stops will be made at intermediate points en route. After breakfast in Parker, the visitors will be allowed to enjoy themselves in any legitimate way they choose until 10 o'clock. At 10 o'clock a run to the Colorado River, spanned by the new million dollar bridge, a quarter of a mile long, will be the first event on the program. Returning from the river at 10:30 o'clock Indian sports of various kinds will follow until noon when the barbecue commences. At 1:30 o'clock a baseball game will commence, lasting until 2 o'clock. Other afternoon events programmed until the train leaves are horse racing and various Indian sports. No hunting will be allowed on the reservation. Leaving Parker at 4:30 on the return trip the train will stop fifteen minutes at all stations on the A. & C., allowing time for all to get acquainted with the enterprising citizens of that section, considered by mining men to have the greatest future in mineral production of any section in the west.

Residents of Wenden, Salome, Vicksburg and House, the principal towns on the A. & C. between Wickenburg and Parker are also arranging to entertain the excursionists during the stops in these places.

Reception committees of the Parker residents will meet the excursionists on the arrival of the train there.

The train is scheduled to arrive here Monday morning at 2 o'clock. Those who engage berths will be allowed to occupy the same until 7 o'clock Monday morning.

OWEN McALEER STRONG FOR HIGHLAND CHIEF

(From Thursday's Daily)
Probably no man in Southern California is better known or more vitally interested in the development of that section than ex-Mayor Owen McAleer. Mayor McAleer is also largely interested in Arizona mines and a company of which ex-Mayor Snyder, of Los Angeles, is president and Owen McAleer is one of the directors, is expending very large sums in the development of gold properties near Prescott.

Owen McAleer is greatly interested in the development of the resources of Arizona. He expects to make large sums in legitimate mining investments. He wants above everything else to see Arizona admitted to statehood, and he believes that the election of Ralph Cameron to congress will do more to bring statehood about than anything else the people can do at the present time. He also knows Cameron as a man of intense energy, a worker who does things.

"I sincerely trust the people of the territory will look to their own interests and send Cameron to congress," said Mayor McAleer during a recent visit to Prescott. "He is a man of great vitality, much push and magnetism, has the quality of making friends and holding them, and is a fighter from the ground up. I've known and admired Ralph Cameron for years. He says little but does much. He is filled with sympathy for his fellow man, and his whole being is wrapped up in the welfare of his own territory."

"Cameron is very well known in Los Angeles and very popular. Big men there with big interests in Arizona have confidence in the man."

They know him to be thoroughly in touch with the territory's resources, the mining, agricultural and stock interests. When Arizona is admitted to statehood it will be a grand thing to have a man of Ralph Cameron's personality in Washington. If he is elected in Washington he will have much to say about the enabling act. He has a very large personal acquaintance with the big men in congress now. His fight with the Santa Fe over the Bright Angel Trail has often taken him to the national capital and men like Beveridge, Dooliver, Dick of Ohio, Heniway, Payne and many others of like caliber his friends and admirers. Cameron will be able to go to such men quietly and secure their hearty co-operation in passing legislation favorable to Arizona. It is a vital period in Arizona's history. When statehood is accomplished, the right men should be behind the guns to obtain the fullest benefits for the new commonwealth. The state will be in a position to demand large sums of money for federal buildings, industrial development and the reclaiming of vast tracts of arid lands. Much will depend upon the kind of men Arizona sends to the house and senate. There can be no doubt about the election of Taft and a large Republican majority in the house of representatives. The candidacy of Bryan is really not taken seriously as you are led to believe away out here in the west.

"With Taft as president and a large progressive majority in the house, it seems to me it will be the part of foolishness for Arizona to send as her first congressman under statehood a man out of harmony with that majority. I am speaking entirely from a non-partisan standpoint. If I believed that Bryan and a Democratic house were to be chosen in November I would not advocate the election of a Republican delegate at this vital stage of Arizona's progress."

"Then I know personally that with the election of Taft will come the loosening of millions for profitable investment in Arizona mines. Arizona should have just such a man as Ralph Cameron to hustle among the big moneyed men in the east and present Arizona's claims for their consideration. As delegate he will be in a position of vital relative importance to capital looking for legitimate mining ventures. There is not a man in all the territory better fitted to secure the biggest results in every way, in securing first statehood immediately through the influence of his election, and the emoluments of statehood after admission through the influence of a striking, fighting personality in harmony with the powers able to confer the emoluments."

BIG STICK MINING SATISFIED WITH DEVELOPMENT

(From Thursday's Daily)
Developments in the properties of the Big Stick Mining Company in the Santa Maria district are satisfactory to the management of the company, according to the statement of J. B. Girard, managing director, who is here on business.

"Drifting is in progress on the two hundred foot level," Girard said yesterday to a Journal-Miner man. "There is good ore in all the faces as well as in the bottom of the shaft. The shaft is now 250 feet deep. Sinking has been temporarily suspended on account of the great inflow of water. A station pump is being installed on the 200 foot level. When the pump is ready for operation, sinking will be resumed."

"Work will be resumed on the construction of the mill at once. I expect to be turning out bullion and concentrates soon, as the intention now is to rush the work to completion. "The ore tonnage now in sight and on the dump is large enough to keep the mill running steady as soon as it is finished."

The Big Stick group, comprising twelve claims, is located twenty miles northwest of Date Creek station on the S. F., P. & P. The company has large warehouses at Date Creek station, which is the nearest shipping point.

The group was formerly known as the Howells group. The claims are among the oldest locations in the district. The property was taken over last year from Joe Howells, the locator.

Director Girard returned from an extended trip through several eastern states a week ago. He heard Taft deliver an address in Chicago and says that from what he heard in New York, Ohio and Illinois, that there is no question of the election of the great jurist to the presidency.
